

Your Legacy of Hope & Courage

Your estate and financial plans are a thoughtful and practical way of ensuring support of your favourite charity continues, in your name.

Your legacy of support can also ensure tax benefits to your estate and your surviving loved ones.

Loyal donors are often pleased to know that they can include Women's Crisis Services (WCSWR) in their plans alongside providing for their loved ones. Any gift to WCSWR is treasured and appreciated, and directly benefits women and children who are fleeing violence and/or abuse.

Through the support of deferred gifts and legacy planning, Women's Crisis Services can continue to be a safe place of hope, courage and confidence where we help abused women and their children in our community move beyond violence.

The following are some ways in which your legacy of hope and courage can continue:

Charitable Bequest/Will

- Gift of Cash, specific sum, percent, residual
- Real Estate

Life Insurance

- Direct beneficiary or owner

Registered Retirement Savings Plan & Registered Retirement Income Fund

Gift of stocks and securities

Charitable Remainder Trust

When planning your life insurance, will, estate and other financial plans, including a charity component can also have advantages during your lifetime. To learn more about planned giving options, please talk to your financial advisor.

To inform us of your plans, and be included in a very special giving society, please contact Jenna Mayne (519) 741-9184 ext 2003 jenna.mayne@wcswr.org
